		3. QUESTION FROM MR GRIFFIN Re: Building Materials Further to earlier questions why will Devon County Council not hold a public inquiry into the use of contaminated cement supplied by Lafarge from its Westbury plant, cement which has by agreement has been used in the construction of Exeter PFI schools. You really must agree that there is every likelihood that the contaminated cement has also been used in other construction projects. REPLY BY COUNCILLOR MRS CHANNON This is the sixth question (excluding supplementaries) which you have asked on this subject in recent weeks. In addition you will have seen the very detailed reply provided to Mr Dransfield at the last County Council meeting. There is nothing more I can say on the subject - except that a Public Inquiry would be very expensive, time consuming and pointless. unquote Please provide me with copies all the relevant data on this particular subject
